VERMONT REPUBLICAN
MONTPELIER, Vt.—Republican candidates for two of Vermont's three seats in Congress—one in the Senate and one in the House—won an easy victory in a special election. Ernest W. Gibson, of Brattleboro, who resigned after 10 years in the national House to become a candidate for the Senate made vacant by the death last fall of Senator Porter H. Dale, defeated Harry W. Witters, Democrat, of St. Johnsbury, by a margin of approximately 8000 votes out of a total of less than 50,000.

Junior Woman's Club Hears Talk On Good Books

The Junior Women's Club bi-monthly meeting was held Monday evening in the Robbins Library at 7.15 o'clock.

Business of the club was carried on under the direction of Ethel Crosby, president. Jean Hayden is vice president, Amenie Avakian, secretary and Bernice Hayes, treasurer. Words to the club song "All-American Girl" were passed out by Linea Osterlund and sung by the group. Jean Hayden, program director, introduced Mrs. Charles Hardy, former president of the Arlington Women's Club, as guest speaker of the evening. The subject of Mrs. Hardy's talk was "What Shall We Read?" Among the books which she believes to be outstanding and interesting reading are "Argonauts" by Morrow; "As the Earth Turns," Carroll; "The Farm," Bromfield; "The Bonfire," Fisher and "Pacient," Lancaster.

Volunteers were asked by Mrs. Hammons, supervisor to usher at the Women's Club reception on Thursday for presidents of other Women's clubs.

Albert Wanderly, Boston attorney, will be guest speaker at the next meeting. The subject of his speech will be "Know Your Town."

Scout Drive Starts With Enthusiasm

$4,000 Must Be Raised In Arlington — Chairman Explains Needs Of Sachem Council—Personal Canvass Underway

Getting off to a lively start, the Arlington Boy Scout Drive to raise funds for the coming year showed that a total of $1,000 in cash and pledges had been raised up to late last night. The drive will end on Friday evening.

The annual campaign started with a most enthusiastic meeting at Wyman's tavern last Monday evening when nearly a hundred representatives men from all sections of the Town, who are determined that Scouting in Arlington shall not die, gathered for supper before making their calls on contributors.

Chairman Russell P. Wise of the Arlington Finance Committee presided and after grace had been said by Rr. Francis Bransfield of St. Agnes' Church, Dr. Clarence Dempsey, Superintendent of Schools, led the gathering in "America," with Carl Peterson at the piano. Chairman Wise then introduced Kenneth Morse of Belmont, Chairman of the Finance Committee of Sachem Council, who announced that the drives in Lexington, Bedford and Concord had netted $2,500. He said that Arlington's quota was $4,000 and explained

Mrs. Rogers Laid At Rest

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Rogers, who died at her home, 75 Washington st last Monday was held from the late home this morning with a high mass of requiem in St. James' Church at 9 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends attended. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Rogers was born in New-Foundland, seventy-seven years ago, the daughter of Thomas and Mary B. (Rotchford) Bowen. She had been a resident of Arlington for forty-five years. Mrs. Rogers was the widow of Patrick Rogers. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ida (Rogers) White; a son, Harold Rogers and two grandchildren, Bernard and Ruth Rogers, all of Arlington. She also leaves a sister.

Ergong's Debut In Wrestling At Tufts, A Success

William H. Ergong, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ergong, 21 Lockeland ave, started off on the right foot in his collegiate wrestling career when he defeated J. A. O'Keefe of Harvard University while representing the Tufts College freshmen in the 126-lb class.

It is the first time Ergong has ever participated in the sport. He is a student in the Liberal Arts school at Tufts College.

As Bam Signed at Cut Rate

Eight times these two men, Colonel Jake Ruppert (left), owner of the New York Yankees, and Babe Ruth, star slugger of the team, have been photographed in a setting such as this. But on this occasion there was a slight shadow over the proceedings, for Babe signed a contract for 1934 at a figure $17,000 lower than last year's. However, $35,000 is a pretty nice salary at that.

LONGFELLOW CHAPTER INSTALLS OFFICERS AT BRILLIANT AFFAIR

In the presence of an audience which filled Robbins Memorial town hall to overflowing, Longfellow Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star last evening installed its new officers at the most colorful ceremony of its kind seen here for a long time. Installing officers, and incoming as well as outgoing officers in formal attire presented a most interesting picture as they went through the installation ceremonies.

A profusion of palms and gorgeous floral decorations offered a most attractive setting for the entire affair. From the stage of the auditorium the installing officers inducted the new officers who occupied the center of the floor. Special lighting effects added a brilliant touch to the affair and those seated around the hall and in the gallery fairly gasped at the remarkable precision with which every part of the ceremony was carried out.

Much credit for the decorations goes to Mrs. Sadie Hewson. Previous to the installation a dinner was served at Odd Fellows' Hall in charge of Mrs. Edna Mitchell. The installation was in charge of Mrs. Blanche L. Pearson, worthy grand matron; Charles F. MacDonald, worthy grand patron; Mrs. Ruth M. Perham, past matron; Mrs. Jane Gray Payzant, past grand matron; Mrs. Mae Jean Donahy, organist; and Mrs. Mary Nevery, soloist.

The new officers installed were:

Mrs. Emma D. Cartmel, worthy matron; Charles A. Murray, worthy patron; Mrs. Evelyn Aykroyd, associate matron; George Bleakney will address the club on "When Is A Man Good." Rev. Mr. Bleakney is a forceful speaker and his message promises to be of unusual interest to Kiwanians. A large attendance is anticipated.

Members are urged to pay their annual dues which are now due. Membership cards may be secured from Maurice A. Hatch, secretary.

$150 Voted For Brattle Street Repairs Unpaid

President Irving Sends Communication To Selectmen—Claims Association Never Even Received Official Reply To Its Letters

Making the charge that the Town of Arlington has neglected to pay the Brattle Hill Improvement association the sum of $150 as the Town's share of the cost of resurfacing Brattle st (a matter which was unanimously voted at the annual town meeting last March) Fred Irving, president of the association has placed the matter directly before the board of selectmen in a communication sent the board.

Although the matter was supposedly settled in March, 1933, the association, which has taken considerable pride in improving its section and spent much money in bringing a contractor to Arlington to resurface the street, contends that it has never received the $150 payment from the Town and, therefore, has not received the due courtesy of an official reply from the Town to its communications regarding the re-imbursement. The letter sent the selectmen this week follows: Board of Selectmen,

Town Hall,
Arlington, Mass.
Gentlemen:

We respectfully refer you to Article No. 24 in Town Warrant of March 6th, 1933, which article reads as follows:

"To see if the town will appropriate the sum of $150.00 or any other sum, to be paid to the Brattle Hill Improvement Association as its share of the cost of the resurfacing of Brattle St., formerly Brattle Pk; or take any action relating thereto."

This article was unanimously passed at the March meeting without a dissenting vote. The association has not received the re-imbursement and all efforts to get any official reply cause us to place this matter before the board.

We would appreciate your comment and action regarding this re-imbursement.

Very respectfully yours,
FRED W. IRVING,
President, Brattle Hill Improvement Association.

Keaney Rites To Be Thursday

She was born in Arlington twenty-six years ago, the daughter of Patrick and Mary (McDermott) Keaney. She graduated from Arlington high school in 1926 and was employed by the Carter Ink company. She is survived by her mother; a brother, Patrick and two sisters, Pauline and Annabel, all of this town.

"Spread Sunshine and Safety"

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray of Sunshine" into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway.

Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

MARBLES

Mid January, and Jack
Like other little boys,
Has marbles in a bag or sack
To share in Winter joys.

A stocking first served to be,
The bag Jack thought would do;

"It had holes," he said to me,

"The marbles all came through."

His big sister Anna then,
Who sews most every night,
Made a little bag for him—
A string and cloth of white.

Now he keeps the marbles there,
And when the game is on,
The string is loosed with pride and care—
A happy boy is John.

With muddy knees and hands
begrimed,
He comes into the room;
Lost or won, his youthful mind
Reveals no show of gloom.

Our knuckles too, were chapped and sore,
When we, like little Jack Played marbles in the days of yore—
Those days will not come back.

Why play this game when it is cold?
We know not—never knew.
Jack does not ask, but when he's old,
He will, as we now do.
—Sunshine Jerry.

WOULD LIKE TO JOIN

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
I am thirteen years old and
I would like to join your club.
I can sing and I would like to join. I'm in the eighth grade and I would like to join. My girl friend joined. She said it's fun, and I would appreciate it very much if I could join, and will you please send me a certificate? Will you please also write and tell me if I can sing on the radio? Will you tell me when to come and the date of the day? My address is below.

Mildred Deveau,

Welcome Mildred. Daddy Sunshine is happy to have you as a member. You will find the rules easy to keep. He would advise you to start a Sunshine Scrap book in which you can paste all the letters you write to the club column, and other things of interest which appear in the column. Years from now you will enjoy reading them. Write frequently, Mildred, and get as many members in the club as you can. At present the club is off the air, but as soon as another program is started, you will be notified.

EVELYN WRITES

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
This isn't very nice weather to greet us with. I think it's very insulting.

Well, how did you fare off at Christmas? Did Santa use you in the right way or what? He was pretty good to me and I got pretty near what I wanted.

I got a silk scarf, a pair of beads, two boxes of handkerchiefs and a few other things. I hope the people that were in need got what they wanted. Christmas Day all I was thinking is how many people had nothing, not even a roof over their heads.

I didn't have very much to do Christmas Day and I was glad when night came, because everyone was home and we had more fun, and after the fun I was very tired.

Here is a poem I thought would make the paper look good. Here is the name of M. "The Jeweler's Gem".

A shower of a million stars
Stands still in velvet skies,
And all the silvery brilliance
Across the dark pool lies.

The summer moon—a golden disc—

Swings low on silken threads;
And snowy, star-shaped flowers
bright
Shake sweetly scented heads.

A lulling sound of night insects
Is carried on the breeze;
While zephyrs—soft as fairies'
hair—
Caress and sway the trees.

Dear God! You are a Jeweler, and
This night Your precious gem;
Yet You give it, oh! so freely,
To beauty—hungry men.

This is quite a long poem
but I thought it would sound nice to the sick people who are in hospitals and even children.

Sincerely yours,
Evelyn J. Hunt.

Daddy Sunshine was more than pleased to receive your letter, Evelyn. Yes, he had a fine Christmas and, through the kindness of many members and friends, was able to take care of many needy families and hundreds of children at Christmas. Keep up the good work,
Evelyn. Write frequently.

NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR RETAIL STORES BECAUSE OF THE NRA

"The new program for industry inaugurated under the NRA, opens up new responsibilities and new opportunities for service for trade associations," Channing E. Sweitzer, Managing Director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association stated today, while discussing plans of the Association for the coming year.

"The discussions incidental to formulating the Retail Code have brought into the open and have clarified problems that have been troubling retailers for many years. The final answers for all of them have not been found, but the machinery set up will take care of the flagrant abuses of fair competition that have been a stumbling block to efficient distributing methods in the past.

"The past six months have called into play the constructive leadership of the Association and its members in formulating the Code and in interpreting its clauses in actual store operating and merchandising procedure.

Further Study Needed

"During 1934 further study will be necessary of the best methods of carrying out the Code provisions and the National Retail Dry Goods Association will take an active part in this work.

"The Sessions of the Twenty-third Annual Convention of the Association at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, this week afford an unrivaled opportunity for discussing these problems and for projecting a program for the coming year. Leaders in Governmental activities and in the field of economics as well as outstanding retailers and manufacturers are co-operating with us in making this program most helpful and inspiring.

"General Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, will be the speaker at the Annual Banquet of the Association on Tuesday evening, and members of the National Retail Code Authority will be guests of honor and will take part in the program of the evening.

Hudson Co., Detroit; Paolino Gerli, President, International Silk Guild, Inc., Colonel C. F. H. Johnson, President, Botany Worsted Mills, are only a few of the very able speakers who are scheduled during the week.

No Exaggeration

"I do not want to dwell too much on the importance of retailing to the well-being of the entire nation, but what I have just said is no exaggeration. When the distributive system of the country is functioning well, not only are the stores and the four million or more employees of retail establishments better off, but consumers (and every one of the one hundred and twenty-odd million people in the United States are consumers) benefit by the improved merchandise and service and the lower prices which are possible when the distributive machinery is functioning smoothly; and manufacturers and the millions of workers whom they employ, are busier and more prosperous.

"But activities of the Association will not be limited to the Convention programs, important and helpful as they will be. A number of important surveys of store methods are being planned and each division of the Association will conduct studies that will mean greater effectiveness for the branches of store activity which they serve. Further emphasis will be placed upon assistance for stores of smaller sales volume during the months to come, since the changes brought about by the Code make greater re-adjustments necessary in their methods and we feel that the Association can be of especial service to stores of this type during 1934.

"Financing problems also will be given most careful attention during the months to come, for,

as business begins to expand, this will be one of the important questions that stores will have to solve.

Quality Goods Important

"Emphasis upon Quality Merchandise and upon the fair practice provisions in our advertising copy and sales promotion methods will receive the attention to which their importance entitles them. The Association will continue to protect retailers against the inclusion in Codes of manufacturers of unwarranted and unfair clauses affecting distribution. It will also take an active part in attempting to have amended codes which have been approved already and which contain clauses unfair to retailing, and unsound economically.

"The Association will work with members so that they can operate with maximum effectiveness under the Master Retail Code. A study of Hours and Wages Under the Code is now nearing completion and further bulletins concerning these operating problems and the merchandising provisions in the Code will be issued in the very near future.

"Other studies which are now under way or will be undertaken shortly, include the projected change in cost figures being con-

Who wants to be a MOTHER HUBBARD?

OLD MOTHER HUBBARD found her cupboard bare, but that isn't true of New England women if the experience of one large grocer in Boston is any guide.

This grocer reports that his customers purchased 30,000 more grocery articles last month than during the same month a year ago.

That means more orders for the factories, more wheels turning, more farm products consumed, more jobs. All of which lead to better times.

The perfect housekeeper has a well-stocked pantry shelf. Canned goods for example. The new packs are in, and many emergency shelf foods—always available in your home.

It's no longer clever to boast of having so little—money or things about the house. There's a surge of pride in the modern woman as she shows her well-stocked pantry—her new breakfast set—her new refrigerator—her newly painted bathroom, etc.

It's all in good taste to boast of helping recovery.

Heavy construction is being maintained at a high level by continual activity in the award of road contracts says Engineering News Record, and in the week ended November 20 the value of heavy contracts was $37,190,000, the second highest weekly total this year.

Bank clearings in leading American cities for the week ended November 22 showed an increase of 22.5 per cent over the same period of last year.

Wholesale prices during the week ended November 18 reacted a new high and were at the best level since August, 1931, according to the U. S. Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

Reports from more than 1500 J. C. Penney Co. stores for the first 10 days of November show that the company has enjoyed one of the greatest period increases in business of the year, volume continuing substantially ahead of last year. It was stated by Carl C. Sims, president of the company.

Three greater Boston firms have been awarded contracts for 755,000 yards of flannel shirting for the quartermaster's department of the U. S. Army.

Dollar sales of Continental Can Co. in the 4th quarter up to November 10 were 30% greater than in the same period last year.

1933 A NIGHTMARE

In an editorial analysis of "1933—A Date in History", the magazine "Business Week" reminds us that "within the 12 months, the stream of American business shriveled to its all-time low-water mark. For one agonizing interval, one of its most important tributaries ceased to flow at all. America learned a new and grimly ironical use of the word 'holiday.' Then, under energetic leadership and with a war-time spirit of unity, revival began. We are still deep in economic depression, God knows, but the worst is behind us."

This publication, which keeps in close touch with the facts of business conditions, then interprets "two things in the mind of America."

"One is that unbridled rapacity must henceforth be held in check. Greed cannot longer be allowed full play in our economic life. There were few traffic laws when oxcarts plied the roads, but the automobile had to be regulated. Likewise untrammelled individualism was tolerable in a simpler day. But, given the modern industrial machine and the modern bank-money system to drive, it is intolerable. The wrecks are too many, too costly, too lethal.

"The second is that there can be no real prosperity for all of us so long as any large group among us does not share in it.

"These are not new ideas, but it is a new thing to have them generally accepted. They are the basic ideas behind NRA, which sets minimum standards of hours and wages in industry and attempts to make decent rules for competition."

The broad program for recovery may have seemed confusing, some of the specific measures may have appeared in the early stages contradictory, yet there "is emerging a clear design" and above all, "the significance of 1933 is that it was the year in which we began seriously to try to Do Something About It."

Wynekoop Witness

The State's first witness at the trial of Dr. Alice Wynekoop in Chicago was Burdine S. Gardner, father of Mrs. Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, whom Dr. Wynekoop is accused of slaying on the operation table of her office. He is shown in court after he had testified.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

The greatest and most important theatrical presentation in the history of any New England motion picture theatre will take place at the Metropolitan theatre Friday January 19 when Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" opens a one week engagement with her own company of players at the de luxe M & P theatre. The feature screen attraction for the same week, Paramount's "All Of Me," an adaptation of Rose Albert Porter's play "Chrysalis" features Fredric March, Miriam Hopkins, George Raft, and Helen Mack four of Paramount's leading stars.

Beginning Friday and continuing for one week Mary Pickford will make her first and only appearance in any New England motion picture theatre. In order to accommodate the tremendous throng of Pickford fans, the theatre will open its doors at 9.45 a. m. and start the first show at precisely 10.00 o'clock every morning except Sunday, when the doors will open at 12.45 with the initial show at 1.00. Miss Pickford will appear on the stage of the theatre six times daily, except Sunday, when she is scheduled for four appearances.

In addition to the appearance of Mary Pickford and her company of artists the theatre will offer an elaborate musical variety presentation with a cast of popular screen, stage, radio and musical comedy stars.

"All Of Me" from the stage play "Chrysalis" by Rose Albert Porter reveals the story of two law crushed kids from the slums who give up life rather than each other's arms, revealing the real difference between love and romance to a pampered Park Ave. society girl. Miriam Hopkins, millionaire society girl, is deeply infatuated with Fredric March professor-engineer, but when he asks her to marry him and go west on a construction job, she refuses. She wants love, experiments with it, yet refuses it.

THAT failure to advertise kills many a profitable business. Advertising is essential to business success.

Asking people to buy makes selling easier.

Progressive dealers don't like to waste time trying to sell unadvertised, unasked-for merchandise.

The busiest, most helpful thing in any business is advertising.

A live business concern can't afford to mark time.

Business concerns who get the business are those who go after it in a vigorous way.

A going business should be a growing business.

Business men today are building their business on a basis of truthful advertising. They know that advertising makes new customers satisfied.

TODAY'S
RECIPE

Chocolate Dollars

1-2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1-4 cups bread flour, or 2 1-2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1-2 cup chopped walnuts
2 squares chocolate
Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs slightly beaten. Add milk, vanilla, sifted dry ingredients and walnuts. Add the chocolate melted and form into roll 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper. Chill. Cut in 1-8 inch slices. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees F., 8-10 minutes.

Springs of cool, green mint make iced tea look colder. Decorated ice cubes are another happy variation. Seedless grapes, pineapple wedges, crystallized ginger, nasturtium leaves or maraschino cherries lend themselves to such a dressy use.

Belmont beat Arlington yesterday but there are more alibis than one. We don't alibi for any team any time. We just try to point out facts that might have made the game go a different way if they had been changed.

It now is a well known fact that the High School's new gymnasium is very slippery due to the wax that has been sprinkled on for dances which have been held in the hall.

The Arlington high players did not have any substance on their shoes that might help them to better grip the floor as it might hurt the floor. Belmont came over, took one look at the floor and their coach had them put resin on their shoes.

We noticed it by the peculiar sound the shoes made when they stopped. It's rather different than when there is nothing on the bottom of the sneaker. But we didn't put any reason for it until the Belmont basketball manager confided to us that the Belmont team had resin on their sneakers.

The fact that Clarke was hurt didn't help matters very much either. Brud usually scores at least five points in a game and that would have been just enough to put Arlington in a tie with Belmont.

We think Arlington has a team equal to Belmont's and we think they should beat them next time over in the Belmont court.

Arlington is still seven. They have won two and lost two. Compliments to Coach Bill Lowder who started with practically a green team that is now rapidly rounding in to shape not minding the defeat of yesterday which can be accounted for as an off day.

Don't forget the banquet to be tendered Art Lane at the Commander on Thursday night, the next. Everyone is going to be there so if you want to be in with the times you had better be too.

Russ Snow at present Captain of the Mass. State Hockey team played in the Arena last week. Russ is another Arlington boy of whom there has been such a long line of leading the Mass. State hockey teams.

Johnnie Lax, Paul Rowe and Hermie Nickerson have been playing for Boston University this year and have all starred. They just missed beating Harvard last week. Lax, and Rowe teamed up for one goal with Nickerson sensational in the strings.

Archie Duffey, former Arlington High student, has been doing most of the scoring for Harvard this year. He is also a product of Exeter Academy where he was with Art Lane.

Traf Hicks is the big shot over to Belmont Hill where he is playing hockey and pushing two or three goals in every game. Traf will probably finish up at Harvard as that is his intention.

Tim MacNamara former Arlington High football, basketball, and baseball star is around town after playing a season of Pro football with the Stapletons.

A. T. & T. GAINS 85,000 PHONES IN FOUR MONTHS

Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company states that the net loss of telephones in the Bell System during 1933 aggregated $30,000, as compared with a net loss of 1,650,000 during 1932.

He said during each of the last four months of 1933 there was a net gain in stations, totaling 85,000, which offsets to some extent the net loss of 715,000 in the first eight months of the year. Mr. Gifford said the number of telephones in service at the end of 1933 was about 13,160,000, which is 16 per cent below the maximum development reached in 1930. At the end of 1930, the system had 15,682,000 stations in service.

"The total number of toll and long distance calls handled during the year 1933 was about 9 per cent less than for 1932," Mr. Gifford continued. "The last half of 1933, however, showed an improvement, total toll and long distance calls being only about 3 per cent under those for the corresponding period in 1932."

"While final figures as to earnings for the year 1933 are not yet available, preliminary data indicate that, treating the system as a whole and including the Western Electric Company, the earnings on American Telephone and Telegraph stock were approximately $5.30 per share, as compared with $5.96 per share in 1932."

With The Horses

By WADE S. HERVEY

We have just received one of the most attractive calendars seen in many years sent out by the Good Riding School of West Medford. This calendar is in the natural colors and depicts a hunt scene, "On the way to the meet". Free of any advertising matter it makes a beautiful picture when framed and, quite naturally, they are in great demand.

The picture is from the original painting by J. Sanderson Wells, a member of the Royal Institute in London, and favorably known throughout all England for his vivid portrayals in both oil and water colors, of hunting scenes and famous hunters, in which field his pictures are acknowledged to be correct and true to life.

In the picture he shows the servants of the hunt taking the bounds to the point of assembly. Passing through the sleepy little English village, they are, as always, a source of tremendous interest. Hunting to them is more than a sport of kings—it is an institution that is actually a part of English life.

10 Goal Rating

Tommy Hitchcock stands alone as polo's only 10-goal player today as a result of the decision of the United States Polo Association at its annual meeting this past week.

Hitchcock's chief rivals for the top ranking honor were Cecil Smith of Texas and Elmer Boeske, Jr., of California. Both played superlative polo last season, especially as members of the west team which defeated the east at Chicago.

Beginners' Polo Class

An unusual opportunity for those who would play polo is offered at the Symmes Riding School with the inaugurating of polo classes for those who have never played the game and who have, at the same time, possibilities for real development in its technique.

Mr. Symmes has decided to respond to the many requests for a class of this kind and each Tuesday evening will see the local boys in action. Instruction will embody the art of horsemanship, polo science and jumping with many added features, seldom offered the public, should the interest warrant its continuance. Already several have joined the class and there is room for several more. All workouts will be in the new indoor ring at the Symmes school where regularly scheduled polo matches are played each Wednesday evening. These matches are open to the general public and the ever increasing attendance attests to their popularity.

Next Saturday evening the Medford Ramblers renew their schedule and meet the Harvard Blue Jays at the Commonwealth Armory, Boston. This year marks the first time that Medford has had a team in this league and the support of local horse and polo fans is needed. The Ramblers' first game was a victory over the Headquarters Troop when a splendid brand of polo was served by the local trio.

Harry Good, Ralph Symmes and Leo Boyle comprise the Ramblers' into—a team you will hear from during the season. The second game for Saturday will be announced later in the week through these columns.

ARLINGTON HIGH FIVE DROPS CLOSE GAME TO BELMONT HOOPSTERS

By BOB FOREST

Set back by a bad injury to the star of the Red and Gray quintet, Gordon Clarke, the Arlington High team failed to click and as a result lost a close game to Belmont, 19 to 14, at the new High School basketball gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Attempting to count for Arlington, Clarke leaped high in the air and his arm hit Massett, of the visitors, in the mouth knocking a tooth out. Clarke had a wound in his forearm as a result and necessitated his temporary removal from the game to have it bandaged up.

He returned late in the quarter of the same period with a bandage on but it prevented free movement of the arm. As a result his basket shooting was away off and he failed to tally. The loss of his usual points was a serious handicap not easily overcome. Massett also returned to the game to score two baskets for the victors.

The game was slow all the way through and Belmont led right from the beginning. They were never headed by the High School although Arlington came within one point in the third period. Opp starred for the winners with his brilliant defense play as well as sinking what proved the winning basket in the last minute of play. Madden for Arlington was the big noise with three baskets. The Arlington team although used to the floor was outwitted by a smart Belmont coach who sent his team in with resin on their sneakers while Arlington had to play without the aid of a gripper, on the smooth wax floor.

An unusually large afternoon crowd witnessed the game in the spacious gymnasium. Arlington failed to score in the first period and as a result the crowd had very little to cheer about until the second and third stanzas when the Red and Gray looked a little more like the team that beat Medford in the same hall last Friday night.

Joe Malcewicz vs Jim Londos Coming Jan. 24

Promoter Paul Bowser's opening gesture toward straightening out the muddled situation regarding the world's heavy-weight wrestling championship will be made from Wednesday, Jan. 24, when Jimmy Londos, glamorous Greek and claimant of the title, meets Joe Malcewicz at the Boston Garden.

Londos will either eliminate himself entirely in the eyes of New England fans or place himself in a top spot for a shot at Ed George's crown. If he should win, it is probable that he will be paired here with George in the near future.

The bout is for revenge pure and simple on the part of both men. Malcewicz has been challenging Londos for more than two years and on two occasions he chased the Greek from rings, at Worcester and the Boston Arena. Londos would have nothing to do with the clever New Yorker.

Finally Bowser took a hand and offered Londos a purse of $5000, winner or loser, to go through with the bout. For more than two weeks, Londos held out for $6000, but when Bowser would not listen to his demands, he signed.

The Greek champion is anxious to gain his lost prestige here and forced from Bowser the promise that he would endeavor to pair Londos with George later and provided Jeemy can pin Malcewicz.

Londos' present intentions are to spend a week or more here in training for the bout, for he knows Malcewicz is out after his scalp.

Bowser promises to schedule his usual attractive preliminary card and will attempt to sign his semi-final today.

$1,000 RAISED IN DRIVE

briefly the needs of the Council.

Mr. Wise then told of the plans for the drive and explained just what was expected of each solicitor, ending with a plea that every prospect be seen personally, not just merely called on the telephone.

Stresses Need of Scouting

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Bancroft Beasley of Belmont, President of Simmons College, former Scout Commissioner and now member of the Executive Board of the Council. He declared that while it was most necessary to feed, clothe and shelter everyone, the American people demanded more than that. It demanded that its boys be trained not only to become good citizens but also to use their spare time to advantage and to widen their interest in worth-while things. Scouting, he said, did just that by offering boys an outdoor program which enabled them to study nature and learn to care for themselves in the open; by widening their interests in worth-while subjects through the Merit Badge system; and by substituting for them the "gang with a purpose," in place of the street gang with no purpose at all.

Supt. Dempsey added his praise for scouting by declaring that it was one of the greatest influences for good in the schools.

During the evening many popular songs were sung with pleasure and gusto under the leadership of Dr. Dempsey.

After supper the various District Leaders gathered their Captains and teams about them and distributed the cards of people to be seen.

It was the liveliest and "peppiest" meeting ever held during the fifteen years of Scouting in Arlington.

Norway is in the northernmost country of Europe. The midnight sun shines on the North Cape, which is the extreme northern tip of the mainland, from May 11 to July 31. In a great part of the country the nights are light during the midsummer period. In winter the skies are vari-colored with the northern lights. The climate is surprisingly mild.

The population of Norway is about three million. The people are home-loving and hospitable. They have a high moral and cultural standard and it is rare that one meets a Norwegian who does not both read and think.

The government is a constitutional monarchy. King Hakon and Queen Maud are the much loved rulers. Crown Prince Claf is a universal favorite.

The scenery of Norway combines wild mountain tracts and pleasant peaceful valleys, sombre gorges, precipitous cliffs and smiling lakes, heavy forests and broad fertile fields, snowy peaks and glittering treacherous glaciers.

Homemade Bread Cuts Food Bill

Homemade bread will help reduce your food bill. This statement, made by the Middlesex County Extension Service, has started many homemakers to reconsider this problem.

It is not true that every woman should bake her own bread. A family of only two, or a family where no other baking is done and the oven heated for just one loaf, would probably not save money.

If you have a family and are truly interested in cutting the food costs, bake your own bread. The old-fashioned everlasting of liquid yeast is the cheapest.

Baker's yeast, which may be bought in quantity is very cheap and very quick. The bread is out of the oven in three hours and twenty minutes!

You say a loaf of bread is so cheap—try weighing one of yours with a commercially made loaf. There is quite a difference. Don't forget to compare the nutritive value of these, too. The result will be interesting. The extension Service in Concord, Mass., will be glad to give help in bread making and the use of liquid or Baker's yeast.

Bread making is not difficult. With a little practice out of the oven will come a nice light, golden brown, nutty loaf, full of nutriment and so satisfying that your family will sing your praises and you will have extra pennies to buy the many needed things.

MODERN THEATRE

Three of Hollywood's most important romantic stars, Fredric March, Gary Cooper and Miriam Hopkins together with Edward Everett Horton, than whom there is no funnier, play the leading roles in Paramount's film adaptation of Noel Coward's sensational stage success, "Design for Living" which comes to the Modern Theatre in Boston on Saturday.

"Design for Living" concerns itself with the romantic entanglements of three sprightly, light hearted artists. The triangular romance has its inception in a Parisian spring, and wends its hilarious path through London and New York before it reaches its bombshell conclusion.

The co-feature at the Modern will be Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," with Randolph Scott, Judith Allen, Monte Blue, Harry Carey, Noah Beery, Raymond Hatton and Buster Crabbe. This is a thrilling story of the dangers, thrills, suspense and romance of the great plains when men and women surged westward in pursuit of the American buffalo.

"Gold Diggers" Is Anniversary Hit At Regent Theatre

Continuing to present the best in movie entertainment as part of its anniversary celebration, the Regent Theatre screen will offer, "Gold Diggers of 1933" today and tomorrow. Large and enthusiastic audiences have attended the Regent shows this week indicating their appreciation for the fine entertainment provided for the celebration.

A fitting sequel to the sensation popular picture "42nd Street" which started new styles in screen fare, "Gold Diggers of 1933" according to Hollywood information excels its great predecessor in beauty, in catchy tunes and "whistling" music, in comedy and in its story values. Its list of stars is even more imposing; the chorus ensembles, directed by Busby Berkeley, are more spectacular; its songs by Harry Warren and Al Dubin, will appear to even wider audiences.

The names of Warren William, Joan Blondell, Ruby Keeler (Mrs. Al Jolson) who sprang to screen fame over night in "42nd Street"; Dick Powell, Aline MacMahon, Guy Kibbee, Ginger Rogers and Ned Sparks head the superlative cast ensembled by Warner Bros. for "Gold Diggers of 1933." Mervyn LeRoy who directed "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang" and "Elmer the Great," directed from the Avery Hopwood story adapted by Erwin Gelsey and James Seymour.

"Gold Diggers of 1933" is a "back of the back-stage" story into the lives and loves of the people primarily responsible for the staging of a great New York show. It is an intensely human story climaxed by a triumphant and spectacular "show" in which Busby Berkeley's choruses of 200 picked beauties are lavishly displayed in dance ensembles unequalled in the history of stage or screen.
